The 1st International Basic Allergy Course will be co-presented with the American Academy of Otolaryngic Allergy (AAOA) and the ASEAN Rhinology Society (ARS). It is the first time that such a course which closely follows the “Basic Allergy Course” curriculum by AAOA is being held in Asia. To further enhance the content, we have invited a team of speakers who are leaders in the field of ENT Allergy.

This 3-day course focuses on basic allergy concepts. Understanding of the pathophysiology, diagnosis and treatment will be emphasized. Other topics including food allergy, asthma and sublingual immunotherapy will be taught. There will also be hands-on practicum on intradermal and skin prick testing. The latest innovation and the future of allergy treatment will also be shared. At the end of the course, a ‘Certificate of Merit’ will be given to participants who have attained a certain standard in the end-of-course MCQ examination.
